International Symposium on Pesticide Residues

Osong Administration Town, Osong, Korea
May 2, 2013

The 2013 International symposium on Pesticide residues, jointly hosted by the Ministry of Food and Drug Safety and the Korean Society of Environmental Agriculture, is to identify solutions to the issues on the establishment of maximum residue limits (MRLs), particularly for minor uses, and opportunities for cooperation among national authorities.

This symposium will consist of presentations by experts from various countries on cooperation efforts regarding the establishment of international pesticide MRLs and processes for the establishment of national pesticide MRLs in their own countries. Time will be provided for discussion to exchange information on recent activities regarding minor uses and ways to facilitate global joint reviews.

Objectives

- ▶▶▶ ■ To identify feasible strategies to cooperate on the establishment of international MRLs for pesticide/crop combinations, particularly minor crops.
- To provide a forum for the delegates to the Codex Committee on Pesticide Residues (CCPR) meeting and other interested parties to discuss minor use issues.
- To exchange information on recent cooperation efforts, particularly on joint reviews and residue data generation, and identify new opportunities to participate in joint reviews and other collaborative efforts.
